

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The multifunction stroller has a three-wheeled frame with a child's seat and a leg shroud mounted thereon. The stroller has a spoiler, or wide thin plate describing a 90° arc extending 5 rearward. The spoiler terminates in an inverted, U-shaped channel, which may be clamped to a front rail of a second stroller, or which may receive a handlebar assembly for use as a stand alone stroller. Alternately, a planar plate terminating in a U-shaped channel may be attached to the rear of the 10 stroller frame and used to couple the multifunction stroller to a grocery cart. The multifunction stroller may be used as a child's push toy with or without the handlebar assembly.
